ABOUT THE PROJECT

The GOLDEN SKILLS project is almost completed! We've achieved our goal of arming parents with the essential resources and knowledge to effectively educate their children about finance and enhance their financial literacy. Recognizing financial literacy as a fundamental competency is a crucial step towards fostering inclusion, ensuring it's acknowledged as an essential skill.

FINAL CONFERENCE IN PASSAU

The culmination of two years of dedicated project work was celebrated at the Golden Skills final conference held at the Redoute in Passau. On November 29th, the event unfolded with a welcome from regional politicians, and Mr. Fuller, a Board Member of Sparkasse Passau, delivered a keynote speech on financial literacy, adding valuable insights to the discussion.

The occasion attracted numerous interested parties and guests, creating a vibrant atmosphere. Afterwards, the Golden Skills project was presented to an audience and the results and impact of this significant initiative were discussed. It was a momentous and rewarding conclusion to collaborative efforts of all partners.

FINAL PARTNER MEETING IN PASSAU AND NEXT STEPS

The fourth and final partner meeting in Passau on the 29th of November was an important event for the Golden Skills Project. Partners engaged in discussions covering various aspects of the project, including the website, social media strategy, dissemination efforts, the MOOC platform, final report details, scheduling the last online meeting, newsletters, and press releases.

The collaborative atmosphere reflected the project's strong momentum and its promising trajectory towards a successful and timely conclusion. Thanks to our joint commitment, the project is positioned not only to meet its deadline but also to become a successful initiative, leaving a lasting impact on financial literacy in our countries.
